

California Roleplay Discord

Rules & Regulations

In order to chat, and receive help in this discord, you must at least be 13 YEARS OF AGE OR OLDER as stated in Discord's Terms and Service. All members of our discord must agree to the following rules. Failure to adhere to our rules will result in removal from all our communities. California Roleplay and its staff will report fraud and sexual harassment to local and federal authorities as required by United States local and federal laws. These rules are subject to change at any time. It is your responsibility to stay informed and keep up to date with our rules and regulations in this channel.

California Roleplay reserves the right at any time, for any reason, to remove you from our community if we feel you are posing a threat to our members and/or network infrastructure. You will be removed without refund.

The people who assist you in our development team have full time jobs, unthanked, often stressed out who give up much of their time just to help you. Please be patient and courteous with them. We are a family, we ask you treat our community members the same.

Be patient. Sometimes no one will see your question for quite a while if they are away from the computer or busy elsewhere. Sometimes people are chatting but no one answers your question. Just ask your question and hang out in the channel until you see some activity or find someone willing to assist you.

Because we are a public company in a regulated industry, there are certain rules we must follow. As such, we have set some community guidelines, Policies, and Terms. By using any California Roleplay site or game server, you accept and agree to these Terms.
